Connecting Computing Power
With Powerful Minds

OnDemand for a Decade

Next week marks a major milestone for Open OnDemand. Ten years ago, on July 23, 2013, at the XSEDE 13 conference in San Diego, California, we publicly introduced "OSC OnDemand" to the research computing community.

The significant positive reactions and support we received from our peers and colleagues there and at subsequent events has led us to today, where Open OnDemand is in production use at hundreds of centers all around the world. Much has changed over the past decade with OnDemand, but the core functionality and benefits are still there, as seen in that short initial presentation (available via the link below).

Community Events

Tips and tricks calls

Hosted by the larger Open OnDemand community, tips and tricks webinars share best practices for setting up and using Open OnDemand. They take place on the first Thursday of every month at 1 p.m. ET.

Open office hours

Hosted by our development team, Zoom open office hours are the perfect opportunity to ask questions or make a suggestion. They are held on the second Tuesday of every month from 11:15 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. ET.

How to Contribute

Spread the word

Mention us on Twitter `@open_ondemand`—or simply tell your friends!

Make a suggestion

Pitch a new app or feature—or report a bug—to help make Open OnDemand even better.

Engage with us

Collaborate with us to make your corporate or higher ed project a reality.

Write documentation

Draft documentation for a new app or feature, or help us revise existing docs.

Write code

Write code for a new app or feature, and share it with our community.

Fund the project

Provide monetary support to our development team or one of our partners. Every gift helps!
